

11 Gifts for Lawyers to Increase Productivity

Whether you're shopping for a colleague at your law firm or looking for your lawyer friend or family member, we've got you covered. Lawyers will love gifts that are practical and can actually enhance their day-to-day life. Here are 11 gifts for lawyers to increase productivity that won't collect dust on their desks.

1. Noise-Canceling Headphones

Lawyers often struggle with time management, which can be far worse when the firm is busy and distracting. Noise-canceling headphones shut out the distractions to provide excellent concentration. Headphones don't restrict all sound, but they reduce and control loud discussions

2. Meal-Prep Service

Mealtime could be even easier with a ready-to-go meal-prep service. For a lawyer who likes to cook but doesn't have time to plan recipes or shop strategically, a subscription to a meal service is the ideal solution. Services like Green Chef, HelloFresh, and Blue Apron offer top-notch recipes with pre-portioned ingredients and step-by-step instructions. Some meal services also offer meal selection or specialty recipe plans, such as clean eating, plant-based, or paleo. Meals are delivered in insulated boxes, so the lawyer doesn't need to be home to receive them. Preparing quality meals has never been easier!

3. Personalized Yoga Mat

Part of productivity is maintaining a healthy work/life balance to prevent burnout. Lawyers can get busy and neglect their hobbies, including yoga or other fitness habits. A personalized yoga mat is a great gift to help a lawyer remember to stay healthy and focused, no matter what the day brings. Yoga mats are also portable, so they can be used in the office, in a hotel at a conference, or at home.

4. Voice-Controlled Devices

Voice-controlled devices, such as the Echo Dot from Amazon, make a huge difference in productivity. Lawyers can simply say commands to make calls, send texts, or perform other small tasks. These devices are also streamlined and fit into modern office décor.

5. Paper Shredder

A paper shredder may not sound like the most exciting gift, but it's a huge help for any lawyer. These professionals often have to dispose of sensitive documents, so they can't be thrown in the recycling bin. These documents need to be shredded, and a high-quality crosscut shredder makes the job quick and easy.

6. Digital Course

Lawyers spend a lot of time on their education, but the good ones never stop learning. With the availability of digital courses, certificate programs, and webinars, lawyers can continue to enhance their skill set in areas like computer science, business communication, trends in international law, productivity, and more. Platforms like Udemy and Coursera offer virtually endless possibilities, making this an excellent gift for the forever learner.

7. Legal Technology Guides

Legal technology solutions are sweeping the legal industry and helping lawyers streamline their practices. One of the top-selling books on this topic is A Short & Happy Guide to Advanced Legal Research by Ann Walsh Long, which covers the how-to of legal research and the legal technology solutions on the market. This is the perfect gift for lawyers looking to modernize their practices.

8. Personalized Leather Journal Notebook

Lawyers always need to take notes, even if they have legal technology software. Note-taking comes naturally, and lawyers tend to track time or make notes of thoughts as they come up throughout the day. A personalized leather journal notebook has a professional look and adds to the look of the office while serving a practical purpose. That's definitely an upgrade from post-it notes or a spiral-ring notebook!

9. Unique Thumb Drives

Lawyers need a lot of thumb drives, but who wants a bunch of boring black thumb drives lying around? Thumb drives come in a variety of character and pop culture styles, such as Harry Potter, Star Wars, Marvel superheroes, DC superheroes, and other pop culture icons. The rest of the office can be rich mahogany and leather, so incorporating gifts for lawyers that are fun can bring some lightness into the mix.

10. A Wine Subscription

Sometimes, productivity means knowing how to take some "me" time. Wine.com offers an annual membership with wine and other spirits delivered right to the door. Lawyers that enjoy fine wine and spirits will love sampling new wines and trying out new cocktail recipes. The website also offers a lot of resources, such as wine tasting sets, wine and spirit guides, and recipe books.

11. Espresso Machine

Most lawyers love their coffee, so a coffee-related gift is a surefire hit. Espresso machines not only benefit the lawyer but create an outstanding experience for their clients and colleagues visiting the firm. Espresso machines run the gamut from inexpensive to the price of a car, but you can find quality machines with tons of bells and whistles to create delicious brews. You can also throw in a basket of espresso grounds, flavor syrups, and barista tools.
